CRIMINAL ENTERPRISE ACCOMPLISHMENTS

I know, you're asking why Pheils is also known as "The Mole." In an effort to protect himself from hundreds of angry victims of his numerous frauds, he built an "underground home (bunker) that protects him from incoming grenades and other assorted ordinance. A wise move for a serial crook who has left victims strewn all over the State.

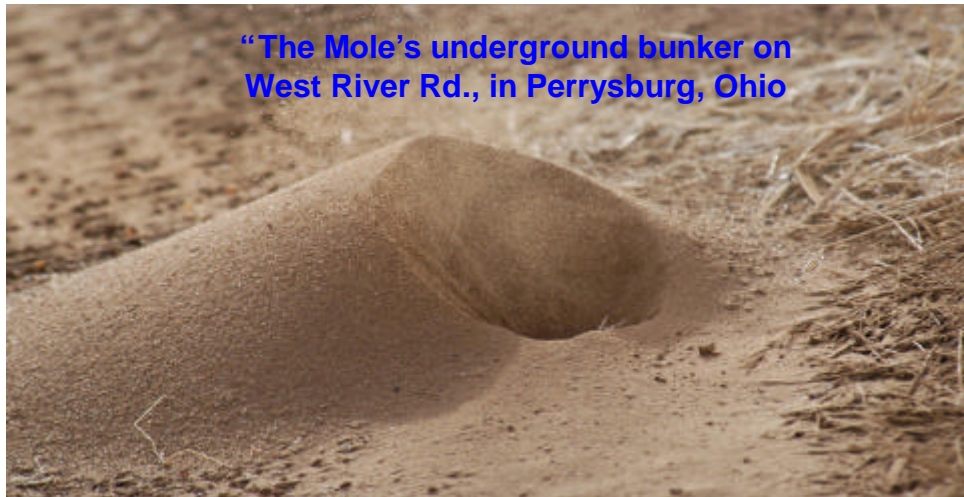

Over the past twenty years, "The Mole" and "Curly" have successfully developed numerous schemes aimed at defrauding their clients. Unreliable sources indicated to the Dawg that "The Mole" has several patents pending to protect his schemes from encroachment by unscrupulous lawyers. Another source indicated that "The Mole"

Without further ado, let's take a walk down memory lane so to speak and review some of "The Mole's" innovative schemes to defraud his clients, ex-clients, insurance companies, physicians, landlords and even his neighbors. An equal-opportunity crook of the highest order!

- Caught re-painting centerline on roadway at 3:00 a.m. in an effort to correct the evidence before trial
  - Plugged neighbor's drainage swale so it would flood his yard and support his lawsuit that the neighbor caused him $300,000 in damage
  - Claimed he spent 88.0 hours and sued for fees of $14,000 to prepare a 3-page generic/boilerplate legal document
  - Sues for fees to prepare 4th and 5th drafts of simple legal papers
  - Sued and collected $250 for partner to mail subpoena
  - Sued to collect $1,500 (9.0 hrs.) to drive to and from Akron
  - Spends 50% of his time involved in personal lawsuits
  - Has wife act as lookout when he's fabricating physical evidence
  - Sued ex-client for $66 a page to have secretary type transcript
  - Collected
  - Sued ex-client for $800 for transcript that he stole from reporter
  - Sues ex-clients for time in his office while he's in California
  - Became a 2-hour-a-week cop in a little town so he could carry loaded .45 and illegally use LEADS system to invade privacy of enemies
