

Ohio Gov. Bob Taft and Golf “101”

On June 18, 2005, Ohio Governor Bob Taft was forced to admit that he accepted golf outings paid for by big time Republican donor Tom Noe (aka, “The Coinman”) and others. Bob appears to be in a heap of trouble for failing to disclose these golf outings as gifts on his annual Ethics Disclosure Statements. In fact, it’s a crime in Ohio to do what Bob did.

Bob claims he merely forgot about it. Sure you did Bob. Just like Jeffrey Dahmer forgot about the skeletons in his closet, I mean his refrigerator.

Bob admits to being an avid golfer, albeit a lousy one. Bob hardly ever turns down an opportunity to hit the greens when some well-heeled lobbyist or contributor like Noe is footing the bill.

Rather than drone on about Bob’s less than stellar knowledge of golf terms and lingo, I thought a pictorial would be much better.
